PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Parents:

I am happy to report that our Advanced Drama production of Much Ado About Nothing was very successful. This was Ms. Marks' first production of the year. I was very proud of all the students and staff involved in the play. Our next drama production will be James and the Giant Peach and it will be performed by the students in the Beginning Drama classes. Students are currently rehearsing so they will be prepared for opening night on January 25th.

Our parents are always so crucial to the success of all that goes on at MCAA. Already, many parents have volunteered to build sets, helped with ticket purchases for shows and dances, and have helped with refreshments. Also, many are a part of the PTSA and the site council and volunteer to be chaperones for dances and field trips.

Our students are very talented. Last year, the students in our Painting and Drawing classes began painting murals on classroom doors, giving our school even more of an arts school look and feel. They will soon resume this endeavor.

Finally, quarter grades should have made it home by now. If you find your student is struggling academically, please do not hesitate to contact the teacher. If you have trouble reaching the teacher, please call the office so that we can help connect you with the teacher. You may also contact the counselor, Christy Spade, for help.

Sincerely,

COUNSELING CORNER

Greeting from the Counseling Office,

The college application process is in full swing. Seniors who are applying to 4-year universities should be working on their applications now. The University of California (UC) application cycle opened November 1st and all UC and California State University (CSU) applications must be submitted no later than November 30th. UC applications can be found at <https://admissions.universityofcalifornia.edu/> and CSU applications are available on the new Cal State Apply website <https://www2.calstate.edu/apply>. Out of state schools and private universities often set their own application deadlines so make sure your senior has researched the schools they are interested in attending so they do not miss any deadlines. Students who plan to attend a community college next year will begin the application process in the spring. Underclassmen who would like information about postsecondary options are welcome to come by the Counseling Office anytime.

High school students who are interested in earning college credit while still in high school can take classes at Yuba College. The spring application and Schedule of Classes are both available online at yc.yccd.edu. In order to take classes students must complete the online application first. If planning to take English or math, students must complete the placement exam. They do NOT need to complete the online orientation, but will need paperwork from me in order to register. Concurrent high school students can begin registering for the spring semester on Monday, December 4th. If you or your student would like more information about this process or need help, please let me know.

On October 21st, a group of MCAA seniors spent the day exploring the Chico State campus during Preview Day. They learned about the academic programs offered, visited with faculty and students and toured the campus. The kids gathered a lot of information and it seemed to be an eye-opening experience for many of them.

Nov 3: Last Day to Register for the Dec ACT

ATTENDANCE

Dear Parents,

Happy Fall Greetings!

Second quarter progress reports will be mailed home on November 16.

Please call me to verify your child's absences. Please keep in mind when your child has a doctor, dentist, or personal appointment, it really helps our school if they can be present part of the day. Call me to arrange short term independent study for one day or more.

Students with perfect attendance for the 2017-2018 school year will receive a $25.00 gift certificate. Congratulations to the seventy students that are receiving perfect attendance awards for the 2016-2017 school year.

If you need information to create an Aeries account to check grades and missing assignments, come in to the office or call me.

Warm Wishes,

Brenda Brown

MR. TEJADA A CHARTER ORIGINAL

By: Anna Campos

"What was life like before Charter?"

"I started up my dojo a year before teaching, and was hoping for new members. I only had one kid. I was also in the air force for some time. I used to live in Los Angeles, but you can't really own a business there unless you have a lot of money. So, I started my business here. Overall, life was a lot more low-key before Charter."

"Why did you settle in the Yuba-Sutter area?"

"I really like the small-town feel — the community really knows one another, as opposed to the city. You could go to Walmart and say hi to a hundred people you've already met before."

"What did you like about Charter when you first arrived?"

"In the first year that it opened, it was really small. There were only 64 students attending at that time. All of the students were extremely passionate about art. Other than the four core classes, there was martial arts, dance, and art. At that point, I was only teaching one block, and I could have half the school in just one class. Eventually, I taught more classes in a day. Now, I'm like furniture here."

"What activities are you involved in outside of Charter?"

"I run my dojo every single day of the week. After 3:15 pm, I leave Charter and go to work at the dojo from four to eight with some help. Other than that, I like to spend time with my family, because I am very family oriented."

"*I wish I had hobbies, but I work."

"What do you consider to be your greatest accomplishment(s)?"

I am raising two beautiful kids, with one on the way. I'm so proud of how driven they are, and I hope I have been a good example to them. Another one of my biggest accomplishments is being the first of my family to graduate college."

"What's the biggest misconception students have about you?"

"A lot of students think that I'm mean, but once people get to know me, they realize that I love to have fun, and always want to encourage smiles and laughter."

Even though some people have never talked to me, they may have these misconceptions that make them apprehensive to talk to me, but that isn't the reality."

"How do you feel about the Dodgers going to the World Series?"

"I'm really excited about the Dodgers going to the world series. I'd like to get tickets to see it. Nearly all of my friends, other than Gabe — a Dodgers fan — are Giants fans. It's hard to be a Dodgers fan in Northern California. There was a time in my life when I considered moving because of the Dodgers, but that time has passed."

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The Science teachers, Ms. Ellsmore, Mrs. Mathews and McDowell recently attended the California Science Teachers annual conference in Sacramento. The State of California, along with the nation is adopting new science standards called NGSS. One of the exciting things was when Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. Mathews attended a workshop on Google Expeditions. Using virtual reality glasses students can experience science concepts on an entirely new level. Some of the expeditions are traveling through a cell, being in the ocean and seeing whales, sharks, turtles and more. We have already used them in a few classes, so ask you student if they have used the glasses yet. We have ordered and received 30 pairs of the Google Expedition glasses and started using them. However we NEED your smartphones, as not all students are able to use their phones and some don't have them. So please donate any of your smart-phones you no longer use that have intact screens.
Thanks!!
